SPRING FOOTBALL UNDERWAY AT UM
rosenthal/jg

MISSOULA--

Spring football practice got underway at the University of Montana this afternoon, as 76 gridders reported to the first session of the spring.

Work on fundamentals and an introduction to the offense and defense are on the top of the priority list according to Head Football Coach Gene Carlson. Filling three holes on the ^{offensive}/line is expected to be one of Carlson's major challenges. Junior Guy Bingham and senior Tim Hook return, but the other positions must be filled on the five-man front. Allen Green is a fixture at tight end.

The Grizzlies will practice on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays this spring. The alumni game on May 13th will end the five weeks of practice.
